525,600

by Rabbi Emily Losben-Ostrov

The number 525,600 is a HUGE number. For some people it may even be too large to fathom. For others, you know exactly what this number represents...it represents the minutes in a year.

As they sing in the song, "Seasons of Love" from Rent:

525,600 minutes,

525,000 moments so dear,

525,600 minutes...how do you measure a year?

So, how do we measure this past year? This has surely been a year unlike any of us have ever experienced. As a Temple family we could measure this year in B'nai Mitzvah, in weddings, in births and yes - in deaths.

We could also measure our year in Zoom programs, holiday gift bags, coats collected, and cans of food donated.

At the beginning of March 2020, I don't think any of us could have predicted where we'd be a year later. We have all experienced some type of loss this year. As a Temple community, we have collectively experienced the greatest type of loss due to death—both directly and indirectly affected by Covid-19. Some of us loss loved ones to this virus and others weren't able to properly mourn loved ones because of the restrictions this virus has caused.

Although others of us experienced loss in comparatively small ways, this has still had a big impact. Loss has come in the way of cancelled vacations, missed graduations, and time spent without being together with loved ones.

Finally, a year later, we can see the light at the end of the tunnel. However, we are still in the tunnel. While many of our congregants have been blessed to receive the vaccine, many others won't even be eligible for months. Therefore, now, just as we've done all along, we must support one another and continue to show each other respect and love. As the song states, we can measure our year in LOVE. In addition to measuring this past year in loss, I hope we can also measure the year in love- ways we have loved ourselves and ways we have loved one another.

While we continue to move through this challenging time, let us strive to continue to offer love. Let this be our measurement, and as is said in the book of Psalms "let us turn our mourning into dancing." And now, let us turn our loss into love.

Zoom Room opens for Kibbitzing/Schmoozing at 6:30pm
Service begins at 7:00pm (runs about 45 minutes - 1 hour)
Stay for our virtual "oneg" after the service.

A special note about services from Connie Heymann, member of our RPC:

While I miss being at Temple of Israel on Friday night sharing Shabbat with my community, there has been a COVID silver lining for me, a long time "shul hopper". There are so many congregations who offer their services on line in some form.

I've been asked to make three suggestions for Shabbat evening on March 5, when the Rabbi is on holiday. You might want to try one of these:

Vassar Temple, where my lovely sister Cantor Elizabeth Goldmann, whom many of you know, is on the pulpit several times a month. She is working on March 5, and happy to be joined by her Wilmington friends from TOI. The 7:30pm Friday evening services are Zoomed, and she will get me the Zoom link before the service to share with any of you. <https://vassartemple.org>

Temple Emanu-El in Birmingham, Alabama, where my friend Robbie Wittner, just out of HUC-JIR, is the cantor, holds Shabbat evening services at 6:45pm our time, The service is livestreamed through the website. <https://ourtemple.org>

Central Synagogue in NYC livestreams their Shabbat evening service Fridays at 6:00pm. Central's considerable resources allow for beautiful and varied music and interesting messages from the bima. <https://Centralsynagogue.org>

I'm always on the lookout for new shul hops. If you have a favorite to share, I'd love to hear from you.

LCS BOOK CLUB - We meet the 3rd Friday of every month - via Zoom now - at 10:30am. Everyone is invited to join us! RSVP to Sharon Levy sj.levy@verizon.net or Sandy Apple candya2665@aol.com for the zoom address or more information.

March selection will be THE BLACK SWAN OF PARIS by Karen Robards, a WWII historical fiction novel.

In April, we will read the 2nd book in the Shanghai story trilogy: SHANGHAI DREAMS by Alexa Kang.

In February we were treated to a fascinating program called RHYTHM OF COLOR about color and design in coordination with our personalities to create a pleasing palette to bring joy, serenity, and focus to our minds, bodies, and spirits in our living spaces. Thank you to LCS member, Belle Smith, for arranging the program!

Wanting more Hamantaschen than were in our mishloach manot gift bags, LCS baker extraordinaire, Ellen Balser, hosted a zoom class on how to make/bake your own Hamantaschen. We used Rabbi Jim Apple's recipe from the TOI Cookbook GENERATION TO GENERATION.

The second session of our program on Creating a Spiritual Legacy and an ethical will was led by Rabbi Emily. The discussion centered on concepts of an ethical will and what we might want to leave from a spiritual perspective...how we want to be remembered and our wishes and dreams for those we leave behind.

Our program about A Safe Place had to be postponed due to related weather issues preventing our speaker from leaving Austin, Texas. We will find a mutual time to reschedule.

Temple of Israel will once again host a Second Night Seder. On March 28th join Rabbi Emily and soloist Ruben as they lead us through the Haggadah telling of our exodus from Egypt. LCS has arranged for a catered meal from Thyme Savor Catering that can be picked up at the Reibman center along with a seder plate of traditional ritual items: Charoses, parsley, bitter herbs, roasted egg, shank bone. Invitations with ordering information were mailed to all TOI members or please use the full page flyer and ordering form in this bulletin. If you need assistance ordering, please contact Barb Sneiderman at recyclerie@aol.com. The deadline for placing orders is Tuesday, March 16th.

The Purim "Bag Ladies" cheerfully hand out gift bags to our members.

The Purim "Bag Ladies"

Members of the Membership Committee cheerfully packed Purim Gift bags (mishloach manot) filled with hamantaschen and other treats. Thanks to all involved in planning and carrying out this project.

TIKKUN OLAM COMMITTEE UPDATE

February was a great month for Tikkun Olam. Thanks to the continued generosity of our congregants, the Tikkun Olam committee was able to donate over $300 to the North Carolina Food Bank and, together, we, with the Rabbi, made a $180 donation to One Soil Farm.

As we look to improve Temple of Israel's Tikkun Olam impact in our community, the ToC is going to introduce an additional way to get involved in Tikkun Olam. We will continue to focus on one "big action" and one Mitzvah Hour per month. In addition to this, we are going to start a "Showcase a Cause" effort each month, dedicating one Shabbat Service sermon and a portion of each month's bulletin to raise awareness of different causes happening here in Wilmington. If you are involved in a cause and would like to share this cause with our Temple family, please email Jonathan Lacefield at jlacefie@gmail.com.

This month, the Tikkun Olam Committee is helping to promote the Downtown Wilmington Blood Drive. Please see below for more information on this important event or click on this flyer for more details.

Do you know what a food desert is? Did you know the Reibman Center is located in a food desert, called the Northside Food Desert? Did you know there is a not-for-profit organization that is focused on ending this food desert? This month's ToC "Showcase a Cause" is the Northside Food Co-op. The Northside Food Co-op is a community-owned cooperative grocery store planned for the Northside of downtown Wilmington that will ensure food security and end the food desert, generate resilience in our neighborhoods, and enhance the local economy through equity and ownership. They are starting a pilot grocery store this year named Frankies. If you are interested in learning more about the Northside Food Co-Op or Frankies, then we invite you to review this presentation. There are many ways to support this local and impactful organization. You can donate (it costs very little to sponsor a family), become an owner, and volunteer. If you would like to learn more or become involved in this project, please contact Anne York at anneyork@creighton.edu.

Never Again! In the Jewish spirit of never letting genocide take place in this world again, next month's Mitzvah Hour will focus on raising awareness for the plight of the Uyghur people in China. Thanks to Temple of Israel's very own Maggie Barnett, we are able to host an awareness event with Lisa Ross, author of Living Shrines of Uyghur China: Photographs. Lisa will share the story of the Uyghur people through the experiences she gained over the course of a decade on journeys to China's Xinjiang region in Central Asia photographing the Islamic holy sites of the Uyghur people. This will be both a fascinating and a stirring event that we hope invites our members to learn more and act on behalf of the Uyghur people.

WELCOME NEW MEMBERS

During the month of February we welcomed three new households into our congregational family.

Julia Vosler
Rita and Alan Katz
Arlene Gershenbaum

Rita and Alan are already well known to many of us. and they are enthusiastic about being back at Temple of Israel. Julia has been a member of LCS and is excited about learning for an adult Bat Mitzvah. Arlene is eager to join us for Shabbat services and to help out with fundraising. More information and photos of our new members will be coming soon.

If you know anyone who may be interested in learning about Temple membership, please let Myrna Cronen, Chair of the Welcoming and Membership Committee know. Myrna's email is mcronen@umass.edu

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL NEWS

by Felecia Becker, Assistant to the Religious School

Shalom, everyone! We have had such an amazing past month and have been having a great time online!

This month we have been focusing on the holiday of Purim!! This is one of our favorite holidays, so we focused on it for most of the month! Some of the things that we have been doing to celebrate are making virtual cards, playing games, reading plays, and watching videos! We even planned a virtual carnival!

Along with Purim, this past month the students learned about the Ten Commandments! After learning and talking about the Ten Commandments, the students had the opportunity to come up with ten of their own commandments. It was very interesting to hear all about what the students found important to add to the original commandments.

Please help support the Religious School with our annual Passover Candy Fundraiser! This is going on NOW until March 5th!! To maintain social distancing, orders are Enter our seller ID 430121 and shop.

All online orders will ship directly to the address you enter at checkout.

We also encourage the sharing of this with family and friends! If you have any questions please contact Stephanie Crowe, Religious Education Committee chair, at shoro@gmail.com.

Overall, we had a wonderful time this past month and the students have been learning a great deal!

TECHNOLOGY ASSISTANCE

We have some exciting news to share with all of you! We have once again applied for and been awarded a generous grant from the Carolina Foundation for Jewish Seniors. Our goal with this grant is to make sure that we as a congregational family are able to stay connected to each other and to Temple activities. We are looking forward to accomplishing this goal in a few different ways.

-  If you would like to join our programs but are unable to because you don't have access to a computer, tablet, or other smart device- we can help.
-  If you don't have access to the software to enable you to join us, we can help.
-  If you don't know how to use your computer or tablet or Zoom or Facebook, we can help.
-  If you are not comfortable with computers/tablets, we can help with that also.

Please contact Barb Sneiderman, Grant Administrator, by email at recyclerie@aol.com or by phone at 703-853-4500 with any questions.

Yahrzeit Memorial Candle

In light the world was created. In light we mark the beginning and ending of the sacred time of Shabbat. And in light we recognize the memory of those we love.

As she prepares to join the Jewish people, Tessa Cheek has created a very special fundraiser for Temple of Israel. Her wonderful personalized yahrzeit candles are now available for purchase. Because her candles are all made to order with details commemorating a specific friend or relative, only 50 candles are available to start.

Thank you, Tessa, for bringing your light to our community in this special way.
